

3 Days Explore Lake Mbuo National Park.

Lake Mbuo national park is located in western Uganda shared by Lyantonde, Mbarara, Kiruhura districts 254km from Kampala the major capital along Mbarara highway. The park is the most convenient place to spot zebras in Uganda; the other is Kidepo which is far away in the northeast. Lake Mbuo is the only place to spot impalas in Uganda, one of the smallest savannahs national parks in Uganda of about 370km of which 20% is covered with wetlands and water bodies. It is the most accessible park in Uganda about 3-4 hours' drive or 254km from Kampala. For birds' lovers, Lake Mbuo is the best place to spot acacia-dwelling birds in Uganda like spur fowl, herons, lilac breasted roller etc. Offers the best fascinating game walking safaris in Uganda. This is because there are no big predators such as lions and Elephants to cause any harm to tourists. It is the best place to spot Leopards and hold the highest numbers of leopards in Uganda.
